The College of Wooster invites undergraduates from the Five Colleges of Ohio and other surrounding institutions to a symposium celebrating undergraduate research on global film, television, and digital media, as well as digital media-based critical projects. As part of this symposium, the College invites you to share your educational and career experiences with students during a special lunch on Saturday, March 30, in the Longbrake Commons of Andrews Library from 12-1pm. Each alum participant will host a table of 5-7 students, with discussion questions and topics provided to you. You are also welcome to attend the symposium programming. Please RSVP no later than February 28 to bkies@wooster.edu and include any dietary restrictions.
